SOME FUNNY PRANKS OF THE HOT WAVE IN THE SPORTING

To baseball fans are on the list of people laid out by the heat. It takes more than a New York scorcher to worry a fan. The Gotham fans turned out in great shape yesterday to see our Giants wallop the Chicagoans. Frank Selee said after the tenth inning, in which the final and winning run was accumulated by the Giants, that it was the hottest day ho had ever seen. Must have seemed that

M ARVIN HART, now in Chicago, says that he doesn't claim the heavy - weight champions ip.

This is an awful blow to the enterpris-porarily out of the game. Runin might claim to be the next best man, as he account for the kindly consideration has trimmed the sailor twice and has shown him by stewards of the different meetings; but if such is the case, himself.

A third fight between Hart and Rub- overhauling. In would do much to clear away the doubt that clouds the varoes claims to the heavy-weight premiership. In fact. there are few good feavies to w in this country, for the simple reas in that he career of James J. If the "colopede" proves better than the "eight" it will no doubt be taken up by the colleges before long. America's proudest boast is that it is progressive.

A few days ago R. L. Rogers, a poor man, had the horse Garnish entered in a race and engaged Lyne to ride him. Mr. Rogers thought his horse would win, and so informed all his friends. They all bet on him to the limit, and when Mr. Rogers returned to the paddock he was dismayed to find that Lyne had weighed in without carrying dilnkers for the horse. ## WATSON AND ALLEN VICTORS

C. F. Watson, jr., and Harry F. C. F. Watson, jr., and Harry F. Allen, the Orange-New York combination, won their second consecutive victory by defeating S. C. Millett and J. R. Martin in the lawn tennis tournament on the courts of the Ardsley Club at Ardsley-on-the-Hudson. This game was the only one played in the tourney yesterday, it being impossible for the other teams to attend.

The match between the two pairs was watched by a large and fashionable gathering, who applicated the brilliant plays of the winners generously. Allen and his partner took the match in three atraight sets, the final score being 7-2. It and 6-2 in their tavor.

(Special to The Evening World.) This is an awful blow to the enterprising press agent who gave it to him after his fight with Faker Jack Root. Hart also says that he is will not be fight anybody for the title. That's the proper spirit. Why not make the first match with big Gus Ruhlin? Fitzsimmoas, who knocked out both Ruhlin and Sharkey, being now in Paris, is temporarily out of the game. Books Are Big Losers.

Ala Russell was withdrawn from the first race at 1.15 o'clock. Her withdrawill brought out a very painful state of affairs for such bookies who had been laying prices ahead of time. She was quoted at I to 3, which caused the contenders to be quoted at fancy prices. Frank Tyler, who makes one of the biggest books in the ring, was loaded up on the favorite and the contenders mostly at third prices.

Under the rules any bookmaker laying prices before the jockeys are weighed does so at his own risk. He cannot make conditions of any sort. All the Ala Russell money had to be returned, but all other bets stood so that every bookmaker who had been too eager to lay prices found himself with a losing book. This rule was adopted by the Metropolitan Turf Association last year, but this is the first time that the books have been burt.

The Executive Committee met in the board room of the Western Union Building. Russell Sage, after an iliness of nearly six months, made his appearance, seemingly as spry and energetic as ever, to take part in the deliberations of a body of which he has been a member for many years. Among the others who attended were President Clowry, of the Western Union; Jacob
L. Schiff and James Hyzen Hyde.

It is presumed that Jacob L. Schiff, who once threatened to resign from the Western Union directorate if it was found that the company was furnishing pool-rooms with racing results, is the autthor of the resolution sent to the Board of Directors. This latter board does not meet until September.
